Out & About

EDUCATION

Billingshurst and the surrounding area benefits from an accessible range of educational facilities. Billingshurst Primary Academy offers primary education for children aged 4–11 in a community-focused environment at the heart of the village, while The Weald Community School and Sixth Form serves pupils aged 11–18, offering a broad academic choices and extracurricular activities.

The surrounding villages also offer a selection of well-regarded primary schools, while nursery and early years provisions are available locally, and those seeking further education are well served by Brinsbury College, which is less than three miles away.

Beyond mainstream schooling, the area also supports specialist and alternative education needs. Ingfield Manor School provides dedicated provision for children and young people aged 3-19 with special educational needs, including boarding options, ensuring inclusive opportunities within the local community.

SHOPPING

Billingshurst is home to a charming retail scene, with the village's High Street lined with historic buildings and home to a good variety of shops, cafés and pubs. Whether you're shopping for gifts, discovering something new, or simply taking a break for a snack, the friendly, relaxed atmosphere lends the experience a distinctive and personal feel. Billingshurst also provides easy access to convenience stores and most major supermarkets, making day-to-day living straightforward, while the nearby town of Horsham provides a wider choice of high street brands and larger shops.

PLACES TO VISIT

Located on the edge of the famous South Downs and just a short drive from the South Downs National Park, Billingshurst and its surrounding countryside offer a variety of appealing destinations for leisure and recreation.

Within the village itself, the Billingshurst Leisure Centre provides a modern hub for fitness and wellbeing, featuring a gym, swimming pool and a range of classes suitable for all ages.

The wider area is characterised by beautiful West Sussex countryside, with scenic walking and cycling routes and a wealth of outdoor pursuits all easily accessible from the village, while historic market towns such as Arundel - famed for its castle and riverside setting - are just a short drive away, providing additional options for those seeking stress-free days out.

West Sussex is also home to several vineyards, with most offering tours and tastings, allowing visitors to experience locally produced wines in scenic surroundings.

EATING OUT

Billingshurst and its surrounding villages offer a strong selection of pubs, restaurants and relaxed dining spots, combining traditional Sussex character with quality food and charming environments.

The Six Bells, a historic coaching inn dating back to the 16th century, serves classic British pub dishes alongside a lively calendar of events, making it a popular choice for both dining and socialising.

The nearby towns of Pulborough and Horsham provide residents with even more options, with a good selection of additional restaurants and bars available in both, including the popular River Moon, which offers up a wide-range of highly regarded Asian dishes and contributes to the area's enticing food and drink scene.

WHAT MAKES OUR HOMES SUSTAINABLE?

At Roddy New Homes, we are passionate about creating environmentally responsible homes and biodiversity net gains. Here are some of the ways in which we reduce carbon emissions:

- We utilise brownfield sites and repurpose previously developed land to reduce urban sprawl.
- We use Modern Methods of Construction (MMC), such as timber frames and other renewable resources, for a smaller carbon footprint and robust, sustainable structures.
- We install solar panels that harness renewable energy to power your home efficiently.
- We use air-source heat pumps, enabling you to heat and cool your home without relying on fossil fuels.
- Our enhanced roof insulation exceeds current regulations to reduce energy consumption and costs.
